Art Unit: 1723

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over that which is conceded to be old in the prior art on pages 1-4 of the instant specification in view of Hatch (U.S. Patent No. 5,667,675). At best, the claims differ from that which is conceded to be old in the prior art on pages 1-4 of the instant specification in the clarity of raising the plunger high enough to perform maintenance. Hatch (U.S. Patent No. 5,667,675) (column 6, lines 8-12 and column 10, lines 33-40) discloses that it is desirable to raise the plunger to provide access to the column. It would have been obvious to raise the plunger high enough to perform maintenance in that which is conceded to be old in the prior art on pages 1-4 of the instant specification in view of Hatch (U.S. Patent No. 5,667,675) because Hatch (U.S. Patent No. 5,667,675) (column 6, lines 8-12 and column 10, lines 33-40) discloses that it is desirable to raise the plunger to provide access to the column.

The remarks urge patentability based upon use of a dispersing section. However, a dispersing section is disclosed in that which is conceded to be old in the prior art on pages 1-4 of the instant specification in the first full paragraph of page 2 of the specification.

In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
